

Letter to Big G

Dear Big G,

Friends are very important in our lives. We should cherish our friends. Good friends are polite. When we meet our friends, we greet them. Good friends are also patient. When our friends are talking, we should listen to them carefully. Friends do not need to be exactly the same. Friends can have different hobbies and they can be girls or boys. The most important thing is that friends feel the same way about each other.

Friends are bound to disagree about things. Even best friends can bother each other sometimes. Friends should share things with each other. Also, friends should think about how others feel. Friends shouldn't show off to their friends. Friends shouldn't shout at each other either. When we do not agree with our friends, we can vote for the best idea. Also, we can talk it out politely.

I am only an almost perfect friend. I can learn to share things with friends. I want to be a more generous friend. Let's become better friends together.

Cheers,

Carlie
